MINER BURNED IN EXPLOSION

N. CUMBERLAND LAD MAY DIE AS RESULT OF POWDER BLAST

Howard W. Walker is Brought to City Hospital.

19 YEARS OLD

Sparks From Former School Boy's Pipe
Ignites Explosive.

Howard W. Walker, 19, clay miner, was believed to be fatally injured today at the City hospital, where he was removed after receiving burns in powder explosion at the West Virginia Fire Clay company's mine near New Cumberland.

Father Beats Out Flames.

Sparks from the lad's pipe, it is thought, ignited a keg of powder, causing the blast.

The youth, whose clothing was burned from his body, was brought to the hospital at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Young Walker, a former high school student, his father, J. F. Walker, of Pittsburgh, and Charles Haines, were working in the mine when the explosion occurred.
The victim was smoking a pipe while making fuses for use in setting off blasts.

Haines and the elder Walker rushed to the boy's assistance and beat out the flames with their hands. He was taken to the office of Dr. R. H. Kraemer in New Cumberland. Bradley's ambulance brought him to the hospital where Dr. W. A. Hobbs dressed his injuries.

in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.)

LLOYD GEORGE, whose weekly articles all intelligent people should read, says labor in England is not as cocksure as it was. "Its jauntiness has disappeared" and with it its intolerance." He adds that "the temperature of Socialist gatherings is very considerably reduced."

Lloyd George says "labor is beginning to realize that the world cannot be reconstructed by phrases," and that for the building of the "City of God upon a hill" you must have plans and specifications.

That is true, as many sorrowing reformers can testify. But, on the other hand, to "build the City of God upon a hill" you must first determine that you will build that city. An enthusiast must fight FOR THE IDEA, long before the plans and specifications are made in detail, and before the foundation is laid.

BLAKE, before he died in a miserable dark room, laughed at as "half maniac," wrote:

"Give me my bow of burning gold
Give me my arrows of desire
Give me my bear, oh, stars, unfold
Give me my chariot of fire.
I will not rest from mortal fight
Or let my sword rust in my hand
Till I have built Jerusalem,
In England's green and pleasant land."

They laugh at Blake no longer. He

SMITH'S FERRY-MIDLAND ROAD OPENED; COLUMBIANA COUNTY REPORTS HIGHWAY BUILDING

The Smith's Ferry-Midland road, important link in the East Liverpool-Pittsburgh highway on the north side of the Ohio river, which has been under construction for 15 months, was opened at 6 o'clock last night.

Orders, it is said, to permit travel over the new concrete artery of transportation were issued to the Allison-Harris Construction company, contractors in charge, by V. S. Onstott, of Beaver, assistant county highway com-

FORMER MOULTRIE POSTMASTER GOES TO JAIL

Charged with having embezzled approximately $428 in postoffice money orders, John V. Clark, aged about 42, former postmaster at Moultrie, western part of Columbiana county, was held for trial before the United States district court at Columbus yesterday afternoon. Unable to furnish $1,500 bond, Clark was returned to the Franklin county jail. Clark was relieved as postmaster at Moultrie last April 28 upon orders of a postal inspector, following an inspection of the post-office records. He is said to have left the village about May 1, and since then his whereabouts have been a mystery. Moultrie friends said today.

Postal inspectors located the ex-postmaster a few days ago and immediately took him to Columbus where he entered a plea of not guilty to the charge. Clark was named postmaster of Moultrie about three years ago, conducting the office in connection with one of the village's general stores. His wife, said to have been granted a divorce from her husband in June, and with her three children are now living in Alliance. John T. French, Moultrie general store keeper, was named acting postmaster after Clark was removed.

KIWANIS CLUB PAYS TRIBUTE TO W. C. LYNCH

"Billy, You've Delivered Goods," Says F. P. Judge.

DINNER MEETING

Retiring Pottery Salesman Goes to San Diego, Calif.

"Billy, you've delivered the goods." Such was the tribute paid W. C. Lynch, retiring vice president and sales manager of the Taylor, Smith & Taylor pottery, by F. P. Judge, Salineville, speaking at the complimentary dinner tendered Lynch, who leaves next week for San Diego, Cal., by the Kiwanis club last night in the Masonic temple, Chester.

Lynch, a charter member of the East Liverpool club, was described as a "living exemplification of Kiwanis ideals."

Homer H. Swaney, Beaver Falls, governor-elect of the Pennsylvania Kiwanis district, slated to deliver the principal address, was unable to be present. He is seriously ill, his secretary telephoned club officials.

In his address, "Billy As I Knew Him," Judge described Lynch's rise from grocery clerk to the front rank of salesmanship, his chosen field. He told of Lynch's experience in 1888 when he was called from the road to manage the world tour of a championship Chicago baseball team and traced his activities during the World war when Lynch devoted every effort to furthering the cause of the United States.

Aids Underprivileged Child.

Kiwanis club's fight for the underprivileged child found responses in the heart of Lynch, who educated eight children and took several into his own home," Judge said.

Lynch's service to the Lincoln Highway association, of which he was a member, was pictured by Frank Swaney, affiliated with the association.

"Mr. Lynch has also given great personal assistance to the cause of the airport now being planned for East Liverpool, located as it is on the airfield.

Members of the Cadiz Kiwanis club will come to East Liverpool Thursday evening, November 3, for an inter-city meeting with the local Kiwanians in Larkins' annex, Market street. This will be return engagement for the visit which local club members made several weeks ago.

There will be no noon meeting to-morrow.

CADIZ KIWANIS TO VISIT HERE

Salvation Army Hits Mark of $4,504.50 in One-Day Drive Here

Citadel's Workers, Taking Over Lists of Prospects Who Were Not Approached Yesterday, Will Continue Canvass for $10,000 Budget.

With $4,504.50 of the $10,000 quota subscribed in yesterday's campaign, members of the Salvation Army corps of workers today were planning to continue their canvass for two weeks.

A meeting of the workers will be held in the Salvation Army barracks tonight when lists of prospective contributors, who were not interviewed in yesterday's solicitation, will be distributed.

Less than half of the 120 workers named for the campaign reported for work yesterday. As a result only about one-third of the prospective contributors were called upon during the 10-hour drive.

The division in charge of George E. Davidson defeated the unit in charge of Blaine H. Cochran. Davidson's co-workers collected $2,325.50, while Cochran's team reported $2,179. Team honors went to R. C. Hedleston's group, who collected $760.

AUTO DRIVER FACES COURT

Donald Parsons of Irondale Arrested Here.

Donald Parsons, Irondale, was re leased on his own recognizance today pending a hearing before Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning upon charges of operating an automobile while intoxicated.

Parsons was arrested by Patrolman Hale last night. The machine, which he was operating at the time of his arrest, it was discovered today, was the property of Gale Cronin, also of Irondale. The two men came to East Liverpool last night and while Cronin was attending a show Parsons is alleged to have "borrowed" the machine.

Parsons, court officials claim, figured in an automobile accident along the Wellsville-East Liverpool road several months ago. He was also driving the auto of another party at the time of the first collision.

A large section of the stone wall was damaged by the impact.

Akron Man Found Dead.

FREE COOKING SCHOOL MECCA FOR FAIR SEX

Another Large Crowd Visits Eagles' Auditorium.

SECOND SESSION

Mrs. Mary Brown-Lewers Review-Tribune Lecturer.

Every housekeeper in East Liverpool and her neighbor tried to crowd into the Eagles' auditorium, Broadway this afternoon for the second session of the free cooking school held under the auspices of The Review-Tribune.

Whatever the final decision on the question whether woman's place is in the home, the fact remains that woman's heart is there. This is a basic truth which is inevitable for any one who views the assemblage attending the cooking school.

Five homes of every class station the assemblage yesterday. It is marked by a dominant characteristic—that of an intent and eager desire to learn the facts and methods of healthful, wholesome and pleasing cooking which Mrs. Mary Brown-Lewers imparts.

It is an evidence that East Liverpool district women generally have a high degree of interest in homemaking from the angle of the kitchen. It is in the kitchen that health is built or destroyed. Being nourished to soundness and happy efficiency or impaired by carelessness, or by improper preparation of food. Where health is, there must be generally speaking, also contentment and mental development.

The women of the East Liverpool district recognize this truth—it is plain. The crowds at The Review-Tribune free cooking school with their concentration and enthusiasm prove it.

FORMER BANKER GOES ON TRIAL

Bridgeport Man Charged With Making False Reports.

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., Oct. 26.—William Thomas, former cashier of the Defunct Bridgeport Banking company closed after a shortage of $300,000 was reported, went on trial here today charged with making false reports to the state banking department. The indictment which alleges that Thomas reported an over draft of approximately $300 when the sum was much greater, is one of 22 indictments charging false entries, embezzlement, forgery, and publishing and making false returns.

A venire of 40 men was called this morning to act as jurors.

Thomas' attorney declares that if a shortage existed, it did not occur at the hands of the former cashier, and that the bank would pay dollar for dollar with a substantial dividend to stockholders. Seated with Thomas and his attorney was Van Thomas, his son, a Wheeling, W. Va., banker.

The vessel was reported waterlogged with all her sail and life boats missing in latitude 38.5 north, longitude 66.57 west. Later she disappeared entirely.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 26.—Loss of life in the sinking of the Italian liner Principessa Mafalda has been small, and possibly there may be but a few members of the crew missing when all the survivors are landed, it was stated officially today.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 26.—The sinking of the Italian liner Principessa Mafalda resulted in a loss of but 68 lives, according to an official message received here today from Bahia.

MIDLAND PHYSICIANS URGE NEW 400-BED HOSPITAL

FAVOR BEAVER AS PLACE FOR INSTITUTION

Valley Business and Professional Men Study Plan.

COUNTY PROBLEM

Centralized Facilities Sought by Medical Men.

Erection of a new hospital with facilities for between 200 and 400 beds either in or near Beaver is the solution for the Beaver Valley hospital question now being considered by a committee of business and professional men, Midland physicians believe.

Two physicians, questioned today for their opinions regarding the best location for a centralized hospital, suggested the county seat as the ideal location. Each pointed out that Beaver is centrally located, has the advantage of comparative quiet, is free from extensive manufacturing activity and is well situated from the standpoint of scenic beauty.

All doctors declared that creation of a centralized hospital to serve the entire valley is desirable from the view point of their profession.

Rochester, seat of one hospital, was suggested as a site by one Midland medical man, but he declared that the present location of the Rochester General hospital should be abandoned and an entirely new building constructed.

Although some men spend as high as $15,000 a year on their wardrobes, a London tailor said recently that with care and economy, one may keep in style for $3,500.

Thirty-three automobile spare wheels that had been lost from cars were picked up on roads of Home County, England, by automobile association scouts within six weeks recently.

Dr. H. C. Blough, who has been in charge of Dr. Helfrich's practice, left today to establish a practice in Johnstown.

MIDLAND P.T. PLAN PROGRAM

Funds Sought to Purchase Books for Schools.

Fifty persons attended the first business meeting of the year of the Midland Parent-Teacher association yesterday afternoon in the Lincoln high school auditorium, when plans were made for an entertainment by school children to be held about December 1. Money raised at the affair will be used to purchase books and other equipment for Midland schools.

Mrs. Berkley Franke delivered an address on "Health," and reports of the recent state Parent-Teacher convention held at Pittsburgh were given by Miss Josephine Mannix and Mrs. P. A. Fernster. Mrs. Fernster is president of the organization.

PERSONALS

Mrs. M. P. Heath, Ohio avenue, was taken to the East Liverpool hospital Tuesday, to undergo an operation for appendicitis.

Mesdames Alberta Maple and Frank Switzer, of Chester, and Miss Louise Seitz, East Liverpool, were recent guests of Midland friends.

Mrs. Charles Doyle, Virginia avenue, is improving from a long illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Wood and daughter, Dorothy, formerly of Midland, now of Pittsburgh, visited here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Webb, of Industry, have moved to Pittsburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. John Seeley, Midland avenue, will move to Industry.

MRS. S. G. RICHARDS TO ENTERTAIN

Even So Simple a Thing as a Handkerchief

A handkerchief accidentally dropped at the feet of her lover sent Anne Boleyn to the scaffold.

A Czarina of Russia paid $2,500 for a handkerchief which had been sixty years in making.

In the days of chivalry a knight carried his lady's handkerchief at the point of his lance, whence comes the guidon.

The English name was originally "coverchief," a veil for the head. English gentlemen adopted handkerchiefs along with snuff, for concealment of a sneeze was a fine art.

So "there's magic in the web of it," as Othello said—a romance behind even so simple a thing as a handkerchief.

One the first floor you will find handkerchiefs in white and gay colors, made exquisite with handwork and lace. Masculine kerchiefs, plain or with his initial in the corner, and wee little ones with queer figures trooping about to amuse the youngsters. And whether your purse permits half-a-dozen plain linen ones, or the most fairy-like hand made affairs, we know you'll be pleased with your purchase.

Priced from 10c to $2.50 each.

Gas in the Stomach Is Truly Dangerous

Gas, flatulence, bloating and a feeling of fullness after eating are almost certain evidence of excesses of hydrochloric acid in the stomach.

Too much acid irritates the delicate stomach lining, frequently causing gastritis, Gastric and Duodenal Ulcers. Food ferments and souring, forming acids that distend the stomach and often seriously affects the heart.

It is genuine folly to neglect such a condition as to treat with antacids. Digestive aids that cannot neutralize the stomach acid. A better way is to get from your druggist some Bismuthated Magnesia (powder or tablets) and take a little after each meal. This famous medicine is inexpensive, safe and effective and antacid can be depended upon to prove its value in less than five minutes. In most instances, relief comes instantly! Pleasant and perfect health is to be had again. This medicine gives wonderful relief in nine out of ten cases. Ask your Doctor or Druggist.

Proposed One-mill Tax Levy

East Liverpool voters will pass judgment upon additional fire protection when they go to the polls on Tuesday, November 8, for one of the six ballots to be handed them by the presiding judges in the respective precincts contains a proposed one-mill tax levy.

Submission of the proposal was authorized by the city council after a survey by the National Board of Fire Underwriters revealed that East Liverpool's 13-member fire fighting force is undermanned, thus accounting in part for the huge loss recorded here during the last 18 months.

The insurance companies, alarmed by inroads made upon their resources by the fire demon, have recommended the appointment of 15 more firemen. This number of men is necessary if the department is to be prepared to man all equipment 24 hours a day, for the two-platoon system means that not more than 14 fire fighters, including the chief and assistant chief, will be on duty on each turn.

And, too, several companies, unwilling to risk future losses, have withdrawn from the field, and others, while remaining here, have been forced to increase rates in order to cope with the situation.

By far and large, the sensible move on the part of East Liverpool electors is to vote for the tax levy. It will mean money in their pocketbooks, for higher insurance costs are inevitable unless better fire protection is provided.

The Mayor Against The Children

Chicago is furnishing the rest of the country with a good deal of amusement just now, with its worries about pro-British tendencies in education. If it were merely a matter of watching Big Bill Thompson trying to get that good old fighter William McAndrew, perhaps we could all watch the fun with the same pleasure we get out of any snappy political debate.

Unfortunately the affair has another aspect. The real fight is over the question of whether the schools shall be used for political purposes or not. McAndrew has always had a quaint and curious old-fashioned idea that schools were intended for the good of children, and that the big educational organization with its hundreds of employees ought to be run for the benefit of the children and for that purpose only. The spectacle of the mayor of a great city like Chicago trying to break the man who stands where McAndrew stands is not exactly funny.

McAndrew has undoubtedly made an occasional technical mistake. For example, once when there was a lot of clerical work to do, and he had a good supply of extra teachers on the substitute list, he had some of these substitute teachers do the clerical work and get it out of the way. The work was done; the extra teachers got a few days' pay for doing it. It looked sensible to him, and does to the average person. But it seems there is some half forgotten ordinance requiring all clerical work to come under civil service. Therefore a charge can be brought.

The "pro-British" stuff hasn't even such slim backing as this. The real fight seems to be one of politicians against children.

Against Book L'arnin'

You would hardly expect a professional educator to condemn books as a means of education. Yet that very thing is done by Dr. Charles W. Hunt, head of a well known American school for the education of educators.

"Books," he complains, "are crammed with second-hand experience. They are the records of what somebody else saw, felt or said. We have clung to them year after year largely out of sheer laziness. It is so much easier to teach when all you have to do is to compel the children to read something in a book and then repeat it to you."

"But life all around us is crammed with educative materials. Within a few years, I predict, children will go out in excursions into shops, factories and on the streets to learn at first hand."

Maybe they will, more or less. But it is certainly going to add to the traffic problem and worry a lot of mothers if all the children in the public schools are to be poured onto the street and towed around town by their teachers, to learn everything by direct observation.

The old Peripatetic school in Greece used to use that method. The instructor talked to his pupils while they trailed after him in the open air. That doubtless helped to keep them awake. But the teacher kept them pretty well outside of the congested districts; and anyway, learning was less complicated in those days.

Now there are a million things for children to learn. How can they learn them all at first hand? A long lifetime would be far too short for the education of the child who tried to learn everything for himself, or for the teacher who tried to show him everything and explain it on the spot.

Books are inadequate, but they are shot cuts to knowledge. The bright child, through them, may multiply his knowledge infinitely, packing into a few years the condensed experience of many ages and millions of lives.

It suffices to take the child out to face the real thing occasionally, giving him something solid to stand on. Then books will open up to him.

You can't be quite sure about international athletic contests promoting world peace. Some nation would always be complaining that when the other nation's champion was down, he got too long a count.

That Yakima apple pie that weighed more than a ton and required a specially constructed oven and a derrick for handling, was to be consumed by 2,000 school children. And probably they'll all survive. Heavy pie isn't so indigestible as heavy cake.

The Iron Horse Wins.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 26.—The Iron Horse wins! That sounds like the announcement of the winner of a race, but it was not a race, although the Iron Horse did win. It won a deal of popular acclaim and favor and established a record as to what a modern public utility will do when it decides to give its public something for nothing.

The Iron Horse was the exhibition and pageant with which the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad celebrated its centennial anniversary. It ran three weeks, it drew an average attendance of almost 70,000 daily, and it cost the company approximately $1,500,000, while it cost the public nothing. There was no admission fee and even grand stand seats and programs were supplied without charge. It was one of the largest slices of good will that a big corporation ever bought.

The affair was held in a Baltimore suburb and ample train and trolley facilities were provided. Most of the visitors came by automobile, however, and parking spaces for ten or fifteen thousand cars was available. Extensive buildings housed elaborate and interesting exhibits, but the big show was the pageant which moved around an ellipse of iron rails and ordinary pavement.

This pageant told the story of a century's developments in transportation in the United States. In fact, it went back more than hundred years and showed what transportation was long before a railroad had been dreamed of, for the first feature was a group of American Indians with their pack horses and travois, symbolic of early travel, crude and slow.

The Indians were members of the Blood and Piegan tribes of the Blackfeet Nation and their homes is in Glacier park. They wore the costumes of early days. Papooses were carried on the backs of the squaws, or in litters suspended between two dragging poles drawn by a pony, and an honest-to-goodness Indian princess, quite as attractive as Pocahontas could have been in Captain John Smith's eyes, headed the group.

Only the paved roadway in a modern setting instead of the trail over the prairies or through the forest primeval made this exhibit essentially different from what Columbus might have viewed had he landed on America's mainland in 1492.

A Modern Train De Luxe.

What Columbus might see if he could return today to the new world he discovered, and what would doubtless cause him to gasp, rub his eyes, and pinch his astral body, was the final exhibit of the pageant—a duplicate of the modern Pullman passenger train de luxe that is operated between Washington and Baltimore and Chicago. This train is the last word in up-to-date rail transportation and after it encircled the grounds it returned to the front of the grandstand and there there was a demonstration of trainside motor-bus operation that is an auxiliary of the Iron Horse. The buses awaited the arrival of the train and when it came to a stop passengers and their hand baggage were transferred in a jiffy and the buses moved off to other terminals.

In all there were 46 floats or exhibits in the pageant. Following the Indians came a float bearing Pere Marquette, the famous missionary and explorer, accompanied by Joliet and two aides. Then early river transport was illustrated by the bateau in which the first settlers traveled the great interior rivers and freighted their household effects. Next came transportation by highway, with pioneers afoot and on horseback, first conveying their goods on packhorses and then by the first rough form of road wagon. The post chaise was shown, and also the post rider.

An early day canal boat was carried by on a float, and following it came the tobacco rollers, a unique method of hauling freight a century and more ago, and then the Conestoga Wagon, and the so-called George Washington Coach, with a passenger costumed and made up to impersonate Henry Clay at the time of his journeys over the National Road. After this came the historic coach, Kearnsage, loaned by Henry Ford, and a similar vehicle that is owned and was loaned by Fred Stone.

Then the story of the birth of the railroad was told with a float on which was reproduced a meeting of Baltimore citizens held in February, 1827, followed by a facsimile of a parade held on July 4, 1828, in celebration of the laying of the first stone of the B. & O. Railroad. The first stone was exhibited on a huge car, with a band playing the Carrollton March, which was written for the parade of ninety-nine years ago. Charles Carroll of Carrollton, a signer of the Declaration of Independence, was shown riding in a barouche of his period.

Advent of the Steam Locomotive.

When the new railroad was built there was no certainty as to the motive power that should be used. Vague reports had been received from England of a new and powerful contrivance known as a steam locomotive, but the directors doubted its reliability and decided to use the good old and original horse power. A replica of the first horse car that in May, 1830, began daily trips between Baltimore and Ellicott Mills, a distance of fourteen miles, was shown, and then came the car in which horse walking or trotting on a treadmill supplied the motive power, and after that the sail car, a duplicate of which was sent to the Czar of Russia who considered adopting it as a solution of the transportation problem in his country.

But the advent of the steam locomotive was not long to be delayed and along comes a replica of the Tom Thumb, the engine invented by Peter Cooper and that was used in 1829-30. It was intended only as a model and weighed only two tons, but was operated long enough to prove that the steam locomotive was practical.

The Tom Thumb was followed in 1831 by the York, which weighed three and a half tons and was capable of hauling a load of fifteen tons at a speed of fifteen miles an hour. In 1832 appeared the Atlantic, almost twice as heavy, and in the pageant the original locomotive was shown, drawing reproduction of two Inlay coaches of the 1831 type. Then came another original, the Thomas Jefferson, which was the first engine to be operated in the State of Virginia.

Others of the earlier engines and trains were shown, then floats commemorative of the birth of the telegraph, then the operation of the stage coach and the pony express in the Far West, and then in rapid succession the various kinds of locomotives and cars that marked the development of rail transportation up to the present time.

The pageant also included exhibits from other countries, of especial interest being the Rocket, the famous Stephenson engine first used in 1829, and the King George V, the most powerful locomotive ever built in Great Britain, said to be capable of a speed of 100 miles an hour and unusual in that it carries neither headlight nor bell. From Canada there was shown the largest passenger locomotive of the British Empire, weighing 324 tons.

Other American railroads were represented in the exhibition, the New York Central showing the De Witt Clinton and its old-fashioned train which made its first run over the Mohawk & Hudson Railroad in 1831, and one of its most modern locomotives, while the Pennsylvania, the Delaware & Hudson, and the Western Maryland exhibited types of their latest high-speed, high-powered engines.

The pageant closed with an exposition of modern motive power and trains on the Baltimore & Ohio.

Statistics recently collected in England show that the risk of being struck by lightning is five times greater in the country than in cities, and 20 times greater at sea than on a railway.

WELLSVILLE PLANS ALL-DAY HALLOWE'EN PAGEANT

SPORT PROGRAM IS ARRANGED FOR AFTERNOON

Expect 20 Decorated Floats in Parade at Night.

BEAUTY CONTEST

Cash Prizes Will be Awarded Costumed Marchers.

Plans for the 1927 revival of Wellsville's Hallowe'en celebration today are taking definite shape, as committee chairmen began to round up odds and ends for the Monday observance.

The event will assume a holiday aspect from noon on, with a program of athletic contests scheduled for the afternoon and a street parade, dance and mardi gras in the evening.

William Paisley, chairman of the athletic committee, today announced the completion of negotiations for a football game between Irondale high school and the Wellsville high school reserves, as a feature of the afternoon activities at Nicholson field.

The Irondale school team is playing its first year of football and, with several games already tucked away, is confident of its ability to give the Orange reserves a warm scrimmage.

The football game will conclude the afternoon card of races, stunts and other events appropriate to the occasion.

Majority of the athletic events were lined up by Paisley and his committee at a meeting last night in the city hall council chamber.

There will be approximately 20 decorated floats in the line of march for the parade in the evening, according to announcement of General Chairman M. K. Duffy and Secretary George Imrie, including machines representing business houses, fraternal organizations and private individuals.

Prizes of $15 to $50 will be awarded the winners in their respective classifications.

Awards to be Made.

An automobile beauty show will also be a feature of the night program, with five local dealers already entered. Judging will be done on the basis of harmony of car, costume and the girl.

Team of ponies, harness and cart, valued at $250, and a cedar chest filled with ladies' wearing apparel, valued at $300, will be given away in the public square following the parade.

A masquerade ball, in the city hall auditorium, will conclude the official program.

Here is a list of parade prizes:

Best decorated business float—First, $50; second, $25; third, $15.

Best decorated float representing the auditorium—First, $50; second, $25; third, $15.

Best decorated private car—First, $50; second, $25; third, $15.

Best costumed man—First, $15; second, $10; third, $5.

Best costumed woman—First $15; second, $10; third, $5.

Funnest costumed man—First, $15; second, $10; third, $5.

Largest and best comic band, $25.

Best appearing Boy Scout troop—First, $15; second, $10; third, $5.

All contestants in the parade must start and finish with the pageant.

Prizes also will be awarded in the pumpkin and potato contest. The largest pumpkin will bring the owner $5 and the second largest $2.50. The largest potato will be worth $3 and the second largest $2.

To avert a shortage of water such as has been felt in Chihuahua, Mexico, recently, officials plan to sink a number of wells and pump the water into the city.

There has been no letup since 1922 in the increase of the foreign trade of Czechoslovakia, which consistently maintains a favorable trade balance.

TURNER TALKS IN TORONTO

Refuses to be "Muzzled" When Church Board Objects.

Edward C. Turner, attorney general of Ohio, refused to be "muzzled" last night in Toronto and failed to appear before the Kiwanis club, when he learned that objections to his speaking on the Marshall bill had been voted by the official board of the Methodist church, in which the club meetings are held. When told of the decision of the directors of the club, who met the wishes of the church board, Turner said, "The attorney general of Ohio refuses to be muzzled. I shall not go to the Kiwanis meeting."

Objections to Turner's topic had been voiced by Justice Rutledge, by Mrs. C. M. Gray, president of the W. C. T. U., and by Attorney John W. Porter, president of the Jefferson County Bar association.

Attorney General Turner spoke before large audiences at both the Eagles' Lodge and the American Legion home.

Do menstrual periods make you a stay-at-home certain days of every month? They needn't! And you need not endure one pang of pain if you'll accept the assistance of Middle.

Middle makes menstruation an incident! No pain, not even discomfort is necessary now. Women who used to have the very hardest time have found this to be true. Middle is a marvelous product; the work of specialists. It is not a narcotic. But it stops all pain in five to seven minutes. Taken in time, the pain never starts. All druggists have Middle in aluminum pocket case for fifty cents, so it's folly to suffer!

Have You Acid Scalp?

If your hair won't keep the simplest wave for several days, there is probably too much acidity. A condition that causes hair to be stubbornly straight and stringy, and to lack all lustre. Acid scalp.

From the hour you check this excessive acidity your hair will act and appear very different. It will arrange easily in any style that becomes, for it will have lovely softness, and all the sheen all healthy hair normally has. Danderine will neutralize the acid, and actually dissolve every particle of dandruff scale. Your hair won't need anything else to keep it fresh, wholesome, and free from the least objectionable taint that is too often noticed in otherwise fastidious women.

Danderine sells for only thirty-five cents at any drugstore, and as only a few drops on comb or towel will do the work, a bottle lasts for weeks!

A long-lasting, quickly-available supply of energy is needed to carry them through their hard morning sessions

Parents who discuss their children's progress with their teachers are often told of one condition which is a real stumbling-block.

Morning listlessness—brought on by poorly-planned breakfasts!

70% of the important work at schools and colleges falls in the morning hours, according to recent nation-wide investigations. Children must be vigorous and wide-awake during those vital hours—or their development will be seriously handicapped.

Yet, too often, children are dull—listless—apathetic—and a question from the teacher shows that an inadequate breakfast is to blame.

A good, substantial breakfast of Mother's Oats and milk is one of Children love the flavor of Mother's Oats, too. It is so carefully milled, from such fine selected grain! The same full flavor is obtainable in two forms—the regular Mother's Oats and Quick Mother's Oats, which cooks faster than toast.

Ask Your Doctor About Cascara

What do YOU do when the bowels need a little assistance? If you clear up the condition with some laxative made with CASCARA, there is nothing better for the system—for the blood.

But if you don't KNOW the laxative you have learned to depend on is of harmless cascara, here's some truly valuable advice:

The bark of a tree called cascara is the most marvelous conditioner mankind has yet found. It stimulates the bowel's muscular action, but does NOT weaken. A violent laxative forms the laxative HABIT. You always need more on the morrow. With cascara, you don't. Its gentle influence carries on sometimes for days. With less and less need of any aid, as time goes on.

So, the very next time you feel slug-

Fried Foods —without smoke or odor

NATURALLY when it comes to frying, the most important ingredient is the fat, so I am going to tell you why I prefer Crisco.

In the first place, Crisco fries the food to perfection before it is hot enough to smoke. So there will be no smoke or unpleasant odor in your kitchen or the rest of the house—no smoke to heat your face while you are frying and smell up your hair and clothes.

Another thing, when food is fried in plenty of Crisco, it is beautifully fried with a crisp, golden brown outside and a tender, digestible inside.

Crisco is odorless, too, and does not carry the taste of one food to another, so you can use the same Crisco over and over again for frying different things.

Crisco Cheese Balls

- 2 cups grated American cheese
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon Worcestershire Sauce
- 4 egg whites well beaten

Mix in the order given. Form into balls lightly with the fingers. Then roll in bread crumbs using fresh bread. Drop in deep, hot Crisco (375 to 385 degrees F.) or when a piece of bread browns in 40 seconds. Fry until a golden brown. Drain on soft paper and serve hot.

This recipe will make ten balls.

Crisco Potato Cakes

These cakes are delicious with chops or cold meat and it is a good way to use left-over mashed potatoes, or even to cook more than enough and save cooking potatoes the next day.

To every three cups of cold mashed potatoes add one well beaten egg. Shape into flat cakes about one inch thick. Put enough Crisco into a frying pan to cover the bottom well. When hot, put cakes in and brown on one side. Add more Crisco if necessary. Turn with pancake turner and brown on the other side.

Three cups of potatoes will make nine or ten cakes.

200 Attend Religious Instruction Meet Here

Former Senator White, Lisbon, Speaks on "God's Place in American History."

TODAY

About 200 persons attended the meeting held in the First United Presbyterian church, Sixth and Jefferson streets, last evening, in the interests of the course of religious instruction in the public schools.

The speakers included ex-State Senator Charles A. White, Lisbon, whose subject was "God's Place in American History." Rev. L. J. Davison, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, discussed the course in religious education which is being offered in the schools.

Rev. B. R. Johnson, pastor of the First Church of Christ, presided. Music was rendered by a quartet under the leadership of Oliver Johnson.

The enrollment in the religious education classes in the schools last year totaled 1,143, fourth and fifth grade children making up the classes. The classes, in charge of Miss Alma Taylor, Chester, director of the course, met in the schools once each week.

The salary of Miss Taylor, who holds a state teacher's certificate, is paid by the churches co-operating in the work. Twelve of the city's churches made contributions to the fund raised last year.

40 YEAR OLD REMEDY IS VALUED HIGHLY

Mr. Frank B. Hammert, of Jacksonville, will have charge of this useful work.

FORTY Florida newspapers combined to publish every two weeks, a special supplement, called "The Farm and Groves Section." It will supply information about Florida's agricultural resources and the way to develop them.

Mr. Frank B. Hammert, of Jacksonville, will have charge of this useful work.

WEALTH and fertility unlimited are in Florida's soil. The "tourist" will always be one of the great Florida crops, but Florida in a few years will look back with wonder to the day when the tourist was the "principal" crop of the state, and its chief financial reliance.

Industries will be established and factories built throughout Florida as they are building now in California. No one can estimate the future of that great state, only TEMPORALITY set back by real estate booming and foolishness.

"OLD TOM," of Pontypool, England's oldest working miner, says "I am 77 years old. Man and boy, I have been at it 70 years. I started as door tender at 12 cents a day, and now I am a blast firer at $22.50 a week."

The old miner is proud to have worked up in 70 years, from 12 cents a day to little more than $1,000 a year—when he gets regular work.

"QUEEN HIGH" CAST IN CITY

The "Queen High" musical-comedy company, 75 strong, arrived here this afternoon for the presentation of the New York and Philadelphia stage hit at the Ceramic theatre tonight.

The company, en route to the west, will spend the night in the city and leave tomorrow morning on a special train for Parkersburg, W. Va., where the show will be staged tomorrow night.

REMUS LAWYERS COL. ROOSEVELT LEAVE DETROIT ON STAND IN FOR CHICAGO TRIAL OF FALL

Important Witnesses Will be Questioned Friday.

VISIT LANSING

Finds Safety Deposit Boxes Rented by Slayer's Wife.

DETROIT, Oct. 26.—The George L. Remus deposition party, which has been traveling over the country taking testimony in the Cincinnati bootlegger wants for his murder trial November 14 for slaying his estranged second wife, will be in Chicago tonight.

Charles Elston, Remus' attorney, notified Harry Pritzker, Chicago attorney for the slayer, to have the several important witnesses he says he has uncovered in Chicago on hand Friday morning.

Elston was openly elated over the results of a day's questions in Lansing and Detroit. He has established, he said, a close connection between the movements of Mrs. Remus and of Franklin Dodge, former department of justice agent, with whom Remus says his wife conspired to rob him of his $1,700,000 liquor profits.

Both Boxes Empty.

Dodge rented a safety deposit box in the American State bank of Lansing, bank records show on Sept. 23, 1925, and on Sept. 26 Mrs. Remus, as Mrs. A. H. Holmes of Milwaukee, rented another. Dodge transferred his belongings to a larger box May 3, 1926.

Both boxes were opened and found to be empty.

Ruth Remus, daughter of the slain woman, had access to the vault, officials said. Elston recalled Ruth Remus' absence for two days from Cincinnati immediately after her return from her mother's funeral in Chicago. She said she had gone to Miami, Florida, according to Elston, but returned in too short a time for such a trip.

It is his belief she was transferring some of Remus' securities and cash from a hiding place of her mother to some spot known only to herself.

Apostle of Modern Methods.

Mrs. Brown-Lowers is the apostle of modern methods. Cooking becomes under her inspiration, an art, not a trade.

She is showing East Liverpool district homemakers how drudgery may be avoided and how the duties of cooking may be made pleasant.

In these things the district women, intelligent and essentially modern, are interested. If any one doubts it, let them go to the Eagles' auditorium tomorrow or Friday afternoon of this week from 2 to 4 o'clock and see the proof of it. The doors are open at 1 o'clock and there will be a musical program until the school session opens at 2. There is no admission charge, and no ticket is required.

Federal Engineers Inspect Spans.

Federal Engineer Gordon, in charge of federal aid bridges, has spans at Cannon Mill and over west and middle forks of Beaver creek on I. CH. 502.

John Hill of Ada completed the pouring of the second cantilever of the middle fork span Monday. This leaves but one more to do. He expects to complete the superstructure by Nov. 5. All of the west fork bridge is completed except a few panels of rail, requiring 20 feet or less.

The George S. Mellert-Weldner company, of Medina, has just about completed the term work on the Kensington job on the Lincoln highway.

The federal and division engineer accepted as completed that portion of 502 from Middleton to the Mahoning county line. The contract, calling for paving one mile and grading of three miles, was held by Lewis & Copeland. J. D. Paxson of Salem, will complete the paving of concrete on the Damasus Valley road about Tuesday. He has completed the Columbian-Campfield road. There is but 800 feet of this road in this county, the major portion being within Mahoning county.

Allison-Harris Construction company, of East Liverpool, is rushing work. They have three shovels working between Fredericksburg and the Pancake ridge. The fourth shovel is about one mile south of Negley.

The county shovel is making good progress on the grading and draining of the North Georgetown-Homeworth road in the western part of the county.

BUCK JONES IN THRILLER

Western Story on Screen at Strand Theatre.

Buck Jones came riding on his famed steed Silver Buck on the screen of the Strand theatre yesterday afternoon in a thrilling western drama of Romance and Adventure, "Hills of Peril." This is a Fox Films feature that is way above the average western from every angle, story interest, thrills, suspense and humor. And above all it contains some of the best scenic shots shown on the screen recently and a love story that delighted the more romantically inclined of the audience.

"Hills of Peril" is the story of a very wild young man, a cowpuncher by profession, whose wild stunts and practical jokes are the talk of the state and who at last gets on the nerves of the more sedate members of the community. They hold a meeting; decide that Buck's absence from Pinon City will be for the good of the town. So a committee is appointed and Buck is invited to leave.

He does this after one final and glorious bit of mischief and begins his wandering.

Then follows Buck's reformation, his meeting with the girl who is to make such a difference in his life, the raid on a moonshine cave and a series of episodes that are breath-taking in their excitement and suspense. The scene in the cave with the flaming alcohol on the surface of the water and Buck's daring stunts are as nerve-tightening as anything ever shown on the screen.

A fine cast, including Georgia Hale, in the leading feminine role supports Buck. Also Buckie Black a youngster of ten or thereabouts has fine bits in the production in which he shows unusual talent as an actor.

MADISON LOT SALE GOES ON

Agency Established in C. W. Powell Office, Meredith Building.

Sale of homesites in the new Madison Heights subdivision, located at the juncture of the Lincoln Highway and the East Liverpool-Youngstown highway, launched successfully at auction Saturday, will be continued from the office of the C. W. Powell Co., Meredith building, Diamond, under the direction of William B. Powell, manager, it was announced today.

More than 50 of the large lots fronting on the Lincoln highway were sold Saturday.

Announcement was made during the sale that arrangements had already been completed to extend telephone and electric light facilities to the subdivision.

Chevrolet coach, given away by the real estate company, was awarded to G. W. Rankin, a farmer living along the Lincoln highway. In addition a number of cash awards were made.

A crowd of approximately 300 attended the sale, conducted by the H. L. Post company, of Pittsburgh.

METHODISTS TO RAISE $500,000

West Virginia Wesleyan College Drive Opens in State.

Campaign to raise $500,000 for the West Virginia Wesleyan college and Morgantown Foundation, is in full swing today in various sections of the state with the launching of the drive in the Wheeling district. The panhandle goal is $25,000.

The student body of Wesleyan college had a "pep" meeting yesterday at Buckhannon and $6,400 was raised among the students.

Myron Hymes, prosecuting attorney of Upshur county, Ross Bonar, president of the West Virginia Wesleyan college alumni association, Prof. Nicholas Hyma and Dean Thomas W. Haught, were the speakers and Prof. H. E. Luebbers, one of the campaign speakers, had charge of the solicitation.

Another of the meetings will be held tomorrow and more subscriptions will be taken. The total quota for the city of Buckhannon has been set at $50,000 and although the drive was delayed by the wet weather of last week it is thought that the Wesleyan city will turn in the required amount. The campaign there is under the direction of Judge J. C. McWorter.

The drive is also being carried on in the other cities of the state. The campaign will open at Weston and Elkins on October 30 and the following week the arrangements will be started at the Morgantown, Fairmont, and Grafton districts.

If the $500,000 is raised and the endowment of West Virginia Wesleyan increased, the college plans to erect a library. This improvement will make them eligible for membership to the North-Central Association.

CHAPTER XLII.

Sally eyed the glittering flask doubtfully.

Then her gaze swept up to Millie's white-and-roose face.

"I don't believe Aunt Em will let you people drink liquor in this place," she said. "She put some people out last week for bringing it with them."

Millie laughed mockingly, and glanced around the half-filled room.

"Sally, you certainly were born yesterday, weren't you?" she asked scornfully. "Don't you suppose all these people here have something to drink with them? Of course they have! They aren't going to celebrate the New Year with cambric tea, you Round Heels!"

Sally's eyes followed hers around the big pale-green room. Most of the people who sat at the little tables were well-to-do, solid, middle-aged people—the kind that would be attracted to a quiet, dignified place like Aunt Emily's inn. The kind that wanted good food, comfort and peaceful surroundings.

Of all of them, Millie was the only one who looked as if she ever had seen the inside of a night club.

Millie, with her short skirts rippling out over her silken knees, with her lashes darkened, her lips painted, and an enormous picture hat jammed down over her bright yellow hair.

"Here's Davy now!" she exclaimed in her light, slow voice, and walked up to him with that swinging, graceful step of hers.

Sally saw her lips move as she said something to him under her breath, and then they came back to her table. "We aren't going to stay here," she said shortly, lifting her soft little chin. "We're going some place where we can get cracked ice and gingerale and no questions asked!"

By-by, Sister Sally. You and Aunt Em keep on with your little Sunday school and see how far you get with it!"

She was gentle and sweet in her manner. She always was when she was saying something particularly cutting and nasty. That was her way.

With her hand linked in David's arm she turned to go. But he hung back, his gray eyes on Sally's face, in that intent look that always made her feel as if he were caressing it with his hands.

Still looking at her, he spoke to Millie. "We don't want to go, do we?" he asked her. "It's quiet here, and even if we can't drink, it's a nice place to spend the evening."

Millie gasped. "Why, what are you talking about?" she demanded.

"You know this is the one night in the year when people DO want to have a drink! And since when are you on the water-wagon? It wasn't so long ago that I had to drive you home one night when you didn't know the steering wheel from the spare tire, you were so tight; But, of course, if you're so gone on Sally that you want to stay here, cold sober, all evening long, far be it from ME to stop you!"

She faced him angrily, jealousy lighting up her face like a torch.

"You can telephone for a taxi for me, and I'll go home by myself!" She fairly threw the words into his face.

In the end they both went: Aunt Emily, who had come to the door that led from the kitchen, watched them go with puzzled, anxious eyes.

"Why didn't they stay?" she asked, and Sally told her.

"Well," she said very quietly, after a pause, "maybe that's the answer to a good many things. We may have to be a little bit more broad-minded if we're going to get the crowds. After all, I've put every nickel I own into this business, and I'll make a good of it no matter what I have to do."

Sally frowned up at her. "Surely,

"Pleased Me More Than Any I Have Used!"

"Which shall I use?" is a perplexing question in most feminine minds regarding the many beauty creams now offered the public. It no longer bothers lovely Beatrice Rose, of New York. She, like thousands of other pretty girls all over America, uses Black and White Cleansing Cream—and recommends it as the last word in daintiness, quality and effectiveness.

"Of all the creams I have ever used," says Miss Rose, "I find Black and White Cleansing Cream to be far superior and the most pleasing to me in every way."

This delightful cream is made from fine, light oils, which never clog or overload the skin, but go instantly into the pores and out again, bringing all impurities and leaving the complexion fresh, clear and smooth.

Black and White Beauty Creations are of a quality acceptable to those who seek the best at prices within the reach of all—25¢ and 50¢.

ATTORNEY WARREN
PLANS TO RETIRE

Attorney W. E. Warren of Leetonia plans to retire from the general practice of law on or before Dec. 1st, he announced today. Mr. Warren is also city solicitor for the Village of Leetonia, and plans to retain that office until the expiration of his term. He has also served Salem township as justice of the peace, and he has announced that he will resign that office, although he was appointed until his successor is elected and qualified.

Attorney Warren was formerly located at East Liverpool where he practiced law before his removal to Leetonia. He is interested in a large farm in the New Waterford district, and plans to devote the most of his time to that realty.

Leave to File.

In the case of Peter Tafe against the Metropolitan Life Ins. Co., to recover $184.33 on a policy, which was filed in common pleas court Sept. 3rd last, the court has granted the defendant interest leave to file an answer and cross petition at once. An order of publication of notice has also been issued in this action.

Bellaire Creates Title Monopoly In Three-Year Win Streak

ALUMNI UP IN ARMS OVER STATE DEFEATS

Blame for Scarlet's Cons ecutive Losses Placed on Coaching Staff's S houlders in State- ments by Grads.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 26.—Northern Ohio Alumni of Ohio State university today had added its protest to that of the Central Ohio Alumni over the poor showing of Ohio State's 1927 football team, which has been blamed for the resignation of A. W. Raymond, president of the Varsity "O" Alumni association.

Iolas Huffman, ex-football captain of Ohio State and one of the greatest of Ohio State linesmen, now living in Ravenna, places most of the blame for the poor showing on "lack of fundamental training in line playing."

"Ohio State hasn't had a good line coach since Walter Essman was killed in an auto accident in 1925," Huffman declared. "I played under Coach Wilce four years and admire him greatly but I'm afraid he hasn't been getting the proper assistance."

Huffman saw the Ohio-Michigan game and said he was highly disgusted with the method the Buckeyes used in tackling and blocking.

"In my day, a man wouldn't have been tolerated on the squad who tackled as they did in the Michigan game," Huffman said.

Kenneth Carter, Cleveland attorney, O. S. U. graduate of 1917, saw the Michigan game and expressed the

Liberty Dux Lose Opener To Stubbers

Five-man Teams to Clash Here Thurs- day Night.

Liberty Dux bowed to the Steubenville Academy quint by a margin of 134 pins in the opening match of their home and home series last night at Steubenville. The two squads meet tomorrow night at the Liberty alleys at 8 o'clock. Total pins will decide the series.

Both the local and Steubenville bowlers ran into a lot of fresh timber on the Steubenville alleys and, as a result, scores were anything but high. The pins were new, and appeared to be firmly anchored to the alleys. Splits appeared in profusion. Both teams were affected.

In a special three-man match after the regular event, the Stubbers won by 114 pins, a lops or two in the first game knocking the locals out of a victory.

Real pins were set up in this match and a marked difference was noticeable in the scores.

WALKER-M'TIGUE START TRAINING

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—Mike McTigue, the veteran Irish bather of the light heavyweight division, today starts training for his bout with Mickey Walker, world's middle weight champion, at the coliseum here next Tuesday night.

McTigue, who has established headquarters at a local gymnasium, declared he will whip the middleweight champion as easily as he did before Walker "was at his best." Walker is also on the grounds and training faithfully.

As between the south and the west all questions of superiority for this season should be settled by the Notre Dame-Georgia Tech battle at South Bend, while the Missouri valley conference school of football, which holds itself as a separate entity in the western game, will come into action for the first time this season when the powerful Syracuse eleven tackles the University of Nebraska at Lincoln. Then to top off this day of high light inter-sectional contests, Harvard will play host to the more or less indifferent Indiana team at Cambridge.

Any one who believes that Notre Dame will have easy going against Georgia Tech should take pains to revise his opinion, for not since the days when Johnny Heisman and his famous Golden Tornado, has Georgia Tech played such football as it has exhibited this season. The southerners have not matched strength with any eleven out of their own bailiwick but what they did to the famous Crimson tide of the University of Alabama a short ten days ago made history below the Mason and Dixon line.

Georgia Tech Improved.

Notre Dame with the great Christy Flanagan and the almost equally great Neimic, has another of its cyclone backfields which strikes with sudden fury and always appears to have something in reserve for an emergency. That, at least, was the impression Notre Dame gave against Navy. But last season Notre Dame, even with Flanagan on the field of battle, was able to defeat Georgia Tech only 12 to 0 and Georgia was many touchdowns short of being the team that it is today. Hence no one knows better than Rockne that Notre Dame will have to play at high pressure from whistle to whistle to hold this 1927 Tech eleven which has cut a wide swath in the south and has all the earmarks of being just about on even terms with the Rockne troupe.

Harvard-Indiana Meet.

More attention probably will be drawn to the Harvard-Indiana fray than the battle between Nebraska and Syracuse, though insofar as the equality of football is concerned the struggle in the home city of the late great commoner will undoubtedly be far more interesting and instructive than the one in the stadium at Cambridge. Both Syracuse and Nebraska have been defeated in their respective sections, but neither is far removed from being ranked right up with the leaders.

All that prevents Syracuse from enjoying an unblemished record was the margin of a field goal in the game with Penn State on Saturday last, while Nebraska is denied co-leadership in the Missouri valley because it failed to kick a goal after touchdown against Missouri. Otherwise there two elevens are just about as good as the best in their respective sections and a great battle is in prospect.

Nebraska Revived.

Nebraska was lifted from the football doldrums in large measure by the skillful coaching of Fred Dawson, erstwhile Columbian and Princeton quarterback and later coach at Columbia. When he went west in search of better health Dawson undertook to coach Nebraska and paved the way for a

Gossip From Buckeye Grids

LOSING their first game in fourteen starts was a bitter pill for the New Concord Muskies at Akron last Saturday, though the United Brethren will show marked improvement against Baldwin Wallace next Saturday. Tackles Fox and Shane are expected to start, though their legs still show the effects of the defeat.

Marietta Confident.

Playing at the game with a Buckeye athletic association gridiron team is not an every day experience, so after last Saturday's 6-6 tie with the University of Cincinnati, Coach Hayes expects little trouble for his Marietta blues in the Capital University game Saturday, nor with Kenyon and the following week. It's the Muskingum game, which closes the Marietta season, that Hayes is pointing for.

Mounts Meet Zippers.

When Mt. Union entertains the Akron Zippers at Alliance Saturday it will meet the same eleven that sent Muskingum back to New Concord with its first defeat in three seasons. Coach Blair is confident that Tackles Daily and Fullback Huffman will be ready for the conflict with the purple. Both Mt. Union and the Zippers have won their three conference games this year.

Revamp Tiffin Line.

Though Heidelberg won over Ohio Northern Saturday, Coaches Sayer and the Elder were far from satisfied with the 12-6 performance and are spending this week in revamping the Tiffin line. Without a conference game this week the Tiffin aggregation is busy with thoughts of the Muskingum sette scheduled at Tiffin for Nov. 5.

Bishops After Blough.

"Stop Blough," will be the battlecry of the Wesleyan Bishops at Delaware Saturday when the team plays host to Wooster's eleven. Coach Boles of the Wayne county aggregation will try to repeat last year's victory of 23-7.

Coach Gauthier of the Bishops will ask fathers of Wesleyan players to sit on the players' bench during the game, and take part in the game councils. So far Wesleyan has won seven, and Wooster five, of the twelve games played. End Helwig, of the Bishops, is still on the injured list.

Lutherans Get Set.

Though Wittenberg is exhibiting a poor outlook for its Saturday clash

Goggled Gridder

Irving "Brick" Marcus wears glasses when he plays football. He is halfback on the University of California team. A set of goggles was devised to protect the glasses.

with Miami at Oxford, the "grapevine" is that the Lutherans will be set for what is expected to be their toughest conference game of the year.

Coaches Godfrey and Trautwein declare the cardinal and green is experiencing a general feeling of weariness, while stories emanating from Springfield are that Willis Harre, giant Toledo tackle, has water on the knee, and that Vic Maurer has a hip cut. It looks like a tough game, with the dopesheet favoring the Lutherans despite the sad news from Springfield.

Ohio U. Will Rest.

Ohio University's eleven will rest this Saturday following the drubbing it received last week at the hands of Wittenberg. Coach Peden believes the Bobcats will have better luck Nov. 5 when they tackle the weaker Baptist eleven at Denison.

Oberlin Tries Passes.

Oberlin has been drilled in aerial work during the past week, following its loss last Saturday at the hands of Miami, and with ends Wilder and Hoecker back in the lineup, Case will be in for a real conflict at Cleve- land Saturday.

AT CHICAGO.—Mike Dundee, Chil- cago, won by technical knockout over Armando Santiago, Cuba, in two rounds.

The players' special will leave here at 9 o'clock and the fans' at 11:30.

Hurry up! Let's have at least 140 out.

Comparative Scores in Toronto-Bridgeport Games Puts Hurstmen in Position to Upset Grid Dope Saturday.

Bellaire High school's great football team, champions of the Ohio Valley association, from whence came the brilliant Neimic, one of Notre Dame's sensational halfbacks, is preparing for the Saturday game with East Liverpool somewhat in the manner of a squad getting ready for a practice session. Unless advance reports are contrary to the truth, the Bellaire eleven is figuring the tilt with the Blue and White as already in the bag.

Backed up by one of the most brilliant records achieved in the last decade or so by a valley team, with the sole exception of Charley Cartledge's Steubenville aggregation, the valley champs are confident of extending their streak of wins over still another.

If Joe Hurst's Blue and White can come through this important battle with a victory, although the gambling odds in the Bellaire section are much against it, the upset would shake this valley association to its very roots.

In five games this season Bellaire has rolled up 84 points against the 24 of the combined opposition.

In four games, East Liverpool had scored 61 points against 13 by their opponents.

The Hurstmen have been scored on by only one of its four opponents;

Bellaire by three of its five.

Bellaire defeated Bridgeport, 13 to 6 in Bellaire's third game of the season. Toronto, playing its first game, and Bridgeport its second, battled to 6-6. The East Liverpool licked Toronto, 12-6, and wasted at least a pair of touchdowns while doing it.

These figures provide the only basis of comparison between the Bellaire and East Liverpool teams and it apparently serves to indicate that the Blue has a better chance than might be conceded by the Bellmire countians.

Coach C. D. Wright has piloted his at Riverview park, one-half mile north of the Bellaire city limits, with the kickoff scheduled for 3 p. m. The officials are: Maurer (Wooster) referee; Pfeiffer (Denison) umpire;

Duffy (Grove City) head linesman.

NEW YORK—Herman Silverberg, Bridgeport, outpointed Bennie Nabers, New York, ten rounds.

Jimmy Doyle knocked out Mickey Pastore, third round.

Impossible, you say! But a careful comparison of its features against features of sixes of other makes costing even up to $2000 will speedily convince you!

How can this be done, you ask? Chrysler's engineering and manufacturing plan of Standardized Quality, passes on to its cars of lower price the important developments of its own cars of higher price.

As a result in the "62" you get a combination of fine-car features which previously cost several hundred dollars more even in a Chrysler and which are still not available in any other make unless you pay very much more than $1095.

It's easy to convince yourself of this. See the Great New Chrysler "62." Ride in it. Test it in any way you choose. Above

May Pick Ban's Successor at Meeting Nov. 2

Navin Calls Conference of American Moguls.

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—Frank J. Navin, of Detroit, who has held the controlling reins of the American League since Ban Johnson's retirement a week ago, today declared the board of directors would probably select a new president at a special meeting here November 2.

E. S. Bernard, of the Cleveland Indians, is rumored a favorite to succeed Johnson.

The official board which meets here in November includes Mr. Navin, Ben Shibe of Philadelphia, Phil Ball of St. Louis and Clark Griffith of Washington.

LABARBA SEEKS AMATEUR RANKING

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—Fidel La Barba, retired undefeated flyweight champion of the world, now a student at Stanford university, has applied to the Pacific branch of the A. A. U. for reinstatement as an amateur.

La Barba is anxious to reinstatement that he may be eligible to enter collegiate boxing tournaments. He also aspires to become a member of the football squad.

"Hole-in-One" King

Holes-in-one are old stuff to Tom Washington, professional of the Monomoy Inn course at Caldwell, N. J. On no less than 17 occasions, Tom has stepped up, smacked the ball to see it roll into the cup on a single shot. His record is two in one day.

DUNDEE IN LINE FOR TITLE SCRAP

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—Mike Dundee, diminutive Italian welter, today was in line for a title match with Tod Morgan, world's junior lightweight champion, following a technical knockout victory over Armando Santiago of Cuba here last night.

The scheduled ten round bout came to an end in the second round when Dundee connected with a left hook to the jaw.

At the count of eight the bell rang, but Santiago's seconds could not revive him in time to answer the gong for the third session.

Frankie Schaefer, of Chicago, knocked out Pal Moran of New Orleans in the seventh round of the semi-final.

"HAIR-GROOM"

Keeps Hair Combed, Glossy, Well-Groomed all Day

"Hair-groom" is a dignified combing cream which costs only a few cents a jar at any drugstore. Millions use it because it gives that natural gloss and well-groomed effect to the hair—that final touch to good dress both in business and on social occasions. Even stubborn, unruly or shampooed hair stays combed all day in any style you like. "Hair-Groom" is greaseless; also helps grow thick, heavy, lustrous hair.

REFEREE, PILOT FORFEIT BONDS

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 26.—Edward Kennedy, boxing referee, and James Jennings, Niles, O., manager of Tedd Easterbrook, boxer, each forfeited $30 bail when they failed to appear in police court here to answer charges of disorderly conduct.

The two were arrested when an alteration developed over the result of a boxing bout Tuesday night, in which Young Sailor was given a decision over Easterbrook.

Ex-Gridiron Star Demands Walker Bout

Champ Given 30 Days to Make up His Mind About it.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Mickey Walker, middleweight champion accused in some quarters of sidestepping formidable looking contenders, today has thirty days to make up his mind on whether to box or forfeit his title in New York state.

The New York state athletic commission has accepted the challenge of Georgia Courtney, former Oklahoma grid star, who demanded a crack at Walker's title. The commission has given Walker thirty days to declare himself.

It was pointed out that Courtney had met every middleweight of consequence in the country with the exception of Tiger Flowers and Walker. His efforts to obtain a bout with Flowers when the Tiger held the title were futile, his handlers told the commission.

McDiarmid Is Given Garry Hermann's Job

Former Secretary of Reds Succeeds Retiring President.

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 26.—C. J. McDiarmid, former secretary of the Cincinnati National league baseball club, today was in charge of the Reds' affairs, as president, having been named by the board of directors to succeed August (Garry) Hermann, whose resignation was accepted yesterday by the directors.

Hermann, for 25 years the directing head of the Reds, submitted his resignation October 10, but it was not acted upon until yesterday. He gave his poor health as the reason for his desire to retire.

No change in the management of the club will be made, club officials said, as Jack Hendricks has another year to go under his two-year contract as manager. James P. Orr, Cincinnati business man, was elected secretary to succeed McDiarmid.

Hermann, for 29 years chairman of the national baseball commission, yielded that post to Judge K. M. Lazear in 1920 when the "baseball czar's" office was created.

Fight Results

AT SAN FRANCISCO.—Sergeant Sammy Baker, New York, won by technical knockout over Jimmy Duffy, Oakland, Calif., in fifth round.

Speedy Dado, Filipino, outpointed Benny Marks, Los Angeles in ten rounds.

Case Hopes For Victory.
CLEVELAND.—Case, beaten four times since the football season started, hopes for a victory over Oberlin here Saturday. Coach Fletcher has attributed the four successive defeats to "stalemate" on the part of members of the Scientist eleven, and light workouts each day this week were ordered.

Home-made Remedy Stops Cough Quickly
Finest cough medicine you ever used.
Family supply easily made.
Saves about $2.00.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant—children like it—and it beats any good medicine.

Pour  $\frac{1}{2}$  cupful of Pinex in a pint bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup, or clarified honey. Thus you make a full pint—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better than this. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly heals the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid, too, for bronchitis, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

This is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract and palatine camphor, famous for healing the membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.
